Serengé Retreat Shigar

Riverside Eco Retreat in the Heart of Shigar Valley

About Serengé Retreat

Serenge Retreat Shigar takes its name from the Tibetan word མཚན་ལྷོ་ Tsering (Serenge), meaning “Long Life” a blessing often shared in Baltistan as a wish for health, happiness, and longevity.

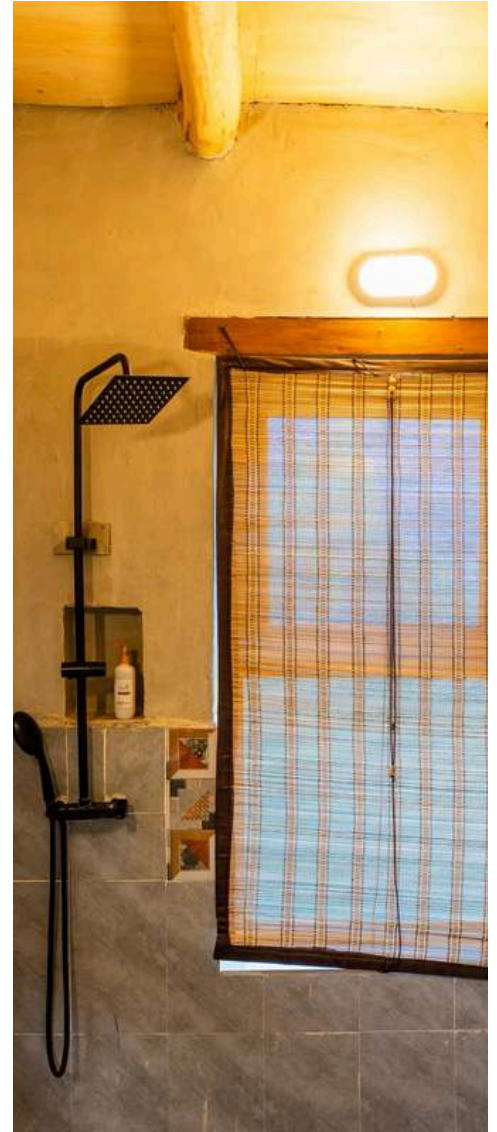

Nestled beside the Shigar River in the peaceful village of Alchori, Shigar Valley, Serenge Retreat is an eco conscious mountain retreat surrounded by the breathtaking Karakoram Mountains.

Founded by local mountaineer and adventurer Aslam Shigri, the retreat is built using traditional Balti architecture, blending wood, mud brick, and natural stone to create an authentic and sustainable stay.

Whether you seek nature, culture, adventure, or quiet reflection, Serenge Retreat offers a meaningful connection to the landscapes and communities of Northern Pakistan.
